

ARGYROSAURUS SUPERBUS

Systematic	Titanosauria
Site and province	Río Chico, Chubut
Formation	Bajo Barreal
Age	Upper Cretaceous
Material	Humerus, ulna, radius, probably two carpals (now lost), and all five metacarpals.
Environment	Fluvial
Authors	Lydekker (1893)
Notes	The name means 'proud silver reptile', from the Greek argyros ('silver') and saurus ('reptile') and from the Latin superbus ('proud').

A black silhouette of the dinosaur Argyrosaurus superbus is shown in profile, facing left. It has a very long, slender neck that curves upwards. The body is relatively compact compared to the neck, with a long tail extending to the right. To the right of the dinosaur's hind legs, two small human silhouettes are standing side-by-side, providing a sense of scale to the dinosaur's size.

Table 1. Argyrosaurus superbus, general information.